Condominium Homeowners Protection Plan

Protection for the place you call home.

Make sure your corner of the world is safe.

When it came to choosing a place to live, there is no doubt that you considered your options carefully before making a decision. Things like the neighborhood, the view, and the amenities were all important. Now that you've made it your home and filled it with treasures and memories, you want to protect it with insurance coverage you can count on. A plan that will not only cover your possessions, but protect you from lawsuits that could threaten your lifestyle.

Count on our Condo Protection Plan to Cover:

- Your personal possessions - such as furnishings, clothing and appliances, subject to your policy and coverage limits.
- Liability Protection—If someone visits your home and is injured as a result of your negligence, there is a very real possibility that you could be sued. Having this protection gives you peace-of-mind if a claim is filed against you, subject to your policy limits.
- Medical—Should an accident occur in your condo that requires medical attention, medical coverage is provided up to your policy limits.
- Loss of Use—If you have to leave your residence due to a covered loss, Fidelity National will take care of the extra costs over and above your routine living expenses such as lodging and meals up to your policy limits.
- Additional Property Coverages—The policy includes limited benefits for such items as credit/debit cards, debris removal, fire department services, loss assessment, and more. Please ask your agent for details.

Identity Theft Protection

Protect yourself against what is fast becoming the “crime of the century.” Fidelity National offers up to $25,000 of valuable coverage. Please ask your agent for details.

Other Protection Options

Scheduled Personal Property

It's important to individually insure the most valuable of your personal possessions, such as high value audio/video equipment, jewelry, antiques, or furs. Have their present value appraised and then contact your agent and have them added to your policy with an endorsement. This provides the extra coverage if you have a loss.

Total Value Protection

This means if there is an insured loss, and you wish to replace a damaged or stolen item, Fidelity National will reimburse the total cost of that item if you were to buy it today—less your deductible.

Not to worry with this extra protection—there is no deduction for depreciation due to age or condition of the item. This valuable option is available for a small additional premium.

Please ask your agent for details.
